Who qualifies as a dependent for Dependent Care Accounts (DCA)?

A few criteria define a qualifying dependent under the Internal Revenue Code Section 152(a)(1) for a DCA.

- First, a qualifying child who is your tax dependent and has not yet reached the age of 13 should have the same principal place of abode as you for more than half of the year.
- Second, a qualifying child or qualifying relative, as defined by the Internal Revenue Code Section 152(a)(1) or (2), who is physically or mentally incapable of self-care and has the same principal place of abode as you for more than half of the year. The person must spend at least eight hours per day in your household.
- Additionally, if your spouse is physically or mentally incapable of self-care and has the same principal place of abode as you for more than half of the year, they can also qualify as a dependent. To meet the requirements, the individual must spend at least eight hours per day in your household.
